53 players enjoyed the 2020 Par 3 Championships at Branxton Golf Club on Saturday where the golf holes were adjusted to ensure some interesting tee placements. Peter Wilton, one of the best iron players the club ensured his reputation stayed in tact in winning the championships with a par 54 round of golf—an excellent effort when playing such an unfamiliar course. Isiah Wolferstan finished runner up with his 3 over par 57. Mick Carling won B Grade with his well-played 61 just ahead of Club President Richard Crooks with his 63 whilst Richie Turnbull once again showed his prowess for this event in winning C Grade with a 72, just ahead of Col Hughes' 73. Dave Matt won the A Grade Nett with his 54 with Rod Wilton and the 2018/19 Club Champion, Cameron Johanson third. Former Club Captain Murray Johanson won the B Grade Nett with his fine 52—a great effort as he was a joint sponsor and he set up the course. Barry Turner and Neil Jordan filled the minor placings. Lennie Porter won the C Grade net with Ted Zawirski and Rob McMillan winning the minor prizes. Kerrie Fry collected another prize in winning the Ladies competition with Karen Johanson continuing to improve with her runner up effort. 15 times Club Champion, Mark Hale, enjoyed another round around the Branxton Course in winning the visitor's prize with his son James also collecting a cheque in finishing the visitor's winner in B Grade. I'm sure all players enjoyed the day, particularly playing off ¾ of their handicap for this event. On behalf of the Branxton Golf Club we wish everyone a safe and happy new year.
