Saturday's hot weather didn't deter some hot scores from winning the competition, no less than David Kinch in A Grade who had the day's best score of 41 pts. Dave who is coordinating the greens maintenance program, has been in good form this year—may be his extra time on the course has given him some inside knowledge as how to play the tight Branxton course. Paul Bush is in a rich vein of form judging by his runner up finish with another impressive 39 pts, with the ever -consistent David Matt third with his 38 pts. Reece Caldwell won B Grade, on a countback from Tony Seamer, with 36 pts from a very tight B Grade field. John Bowen's 35 pts was good enough for third position. Andrew Keogh once again won C Grade, this time with 37 pts, just ahead of Pip Lancaster and the resurgent Gary Walsh, back from recent knee surgery, both with 36 pts. 34 pts was needed to win a ball, showing how tight the scores were for the day. The nearest the pins went to Dave Kinch, John Burgess and Graham Bull. The club's Presentation Night was held on Saturday night with all major championship winners over the year receiving their respective prizes—congratulations to all. Club President, Richard Crooks, briefly spoke at the Vets annual Christmas get together on Thursday, expressing his thanks to everyone for their patronage and assistance throughout this pandemic year. Through everyone's efforts the club has had a very successful year—a gratifying report for such a small club. Well done everyone!
