Par events are always a challenge with Saturday's results again showing that the conditions were tough for all players. Club Champion, Joshua Tracey, again showed his class in winning the A Grade with a square score, a near par round for this talented golfer. This was also achieved during the rain that started around lunch time, exemplifying Joshua's great play. Greg Gillard finished runner up on a countback with Dave Kinch third on the same score. The current C grade Champion, Tim Lane, won B Grade with an excellent plus 3 score, just ahead of the rejuvenated Paul Bush with a plus 2, with Eddie Garland's plus one good enough for third. Left hander, Matthew Schnell won C Grade with a plus 3 score, on a countback from Col Hughes with Murray Kingston picking up another prize, finishing third with his plus 1. Minus 3 was needed to win a ball. The shot of the day belonged to Barney Walsh on the 2nd/11th, finishing only 85cm from the pin, whilst the Pro Pin was won, once again, by Peter Wilton who showed his wonderful iron play ability in winning the NTP on the 4th as well. Our Club Professional, Marcus, shared some interesting thoughts during the week about excuses we all make about why we didn't play golf well today—I thought I would share some with you—I haven't played in a while; back is tight; those greens are really fast; drank too much; didn't drink enough; I got no sleep last night; I just had a lesson; the grass was too long; I can't golf with sunglasses; It's so hot today; it's so cold today; my last round was so good—I just don't get it; course conditions are not ideal today; I didn't get time to practice.. I'm sure we have many more, but we all need to stock up on our excuses to share with one another after a game—after all, that is golf!
