The Canadian Foursomes event, sponsored by KCE, once again proved to be a fun day with 38 keen golfers taking on the challenge. Once players got the gist of the event, many got to play shots from spots they don't usually see on the course (good and bad)! Murray Johanson and Nick Wheeler combined superbly to take out the 2024 event. Their nett score of 60.50 nett was 10 shots under their team handicap and 4 shots clear of second place in an impressive display of team golf. Murray's putter was on fire, and they had 7 one putt holes on the front nine. Tim Lane and Luke Tarrant also combined well to take the runners up prize with an excellent 64.42 nett, while last year's winners Robert Biles and Steve Eccles came in third with 67.22 nett. Robert and Steve had a field day on the par 3 holes, taking out three of the NTP's on offer. The strong team of Lee Hunt and Mark Moylan missed out on the podium by 0.03 shots and had to settle for 4th place with a good nett score of 67.25. The all left-handed combination of Brett Hutley and Steve Ross took out 5th place, just ahead of David Hodges and Neil Jordan, who celebrated well when Neil chipped in from next to the creek on the 2nd hole. Geoff Jones and David Kinch completed the major prize winners list with a 71.25 nett, with all other players winning a ball for their efforts. Lee Jackson took the NTP on 9/18 while Lee Hunt's shot to the Pro NTP was good enough to hold out all other competitors. The club would like to thank KCE for their ongoing support of Branxton Golf Club.
