There was not much of a Summer feel today as 18 adventurous golfers took on the Branxton course in the rain and blustery conditions. With the playing conditions changing constantly during the morning, a steady swing and a bit of luck was needed as the course daily difficulty reading ended up at +2. Michael Carling made the best of the early conditions to post an excellent score of 37 points to take the win. Andrew George was another to have a good day on the course, with his 36 points taking second place. Robert Biles was next in third on 33 points, well clear of his playing partners. Congratulations to all golfers who finished their round today. Ben George hit a great shot on the 11th hole to take the NTP, while the crosswinds made it too difficult for any player to hit the 4th and 13th greens today. Dean Clack had the shot of the day with a superb iron shot on the last hole to not only take the NTP but the Pro NTP as well. A pity it was a small field with a small prize pool, but a small win is better than no win! After Round 2 of the Summer Cup Steve Eccles still leads with 72 points, one clear of Mick Carling on 71 and Robert Biles in 3rd on 66 points. For most players rounds 3 and 4 will now have to count in their best 3 out of 4, so watch out for some competitive golf in the remaining rounds.
